Local Artists To Exhibit

The second annual group exhibition of artists who live or work in Duxbury is scheduled in the Helen Bumpus Gallery of the Duxbury Free Library from Jan. 14-Feb. 9.

Mainly an invited exhibition, this year there will be a limited number of open entries included. These will be juried and selected for exhibition by members of the Art Advisory Committee of the Helen Bumpus Gallery.

The committee has provided for these open entries to be sure all qualified artists receive consideration.

Artists who would like their work considered for the exhibition are encouraged to submit their entries to the library from Jan. 7-11. Should an entry exceed 30" x 40" in size, an alternate choice should be provided.

The committee's selections from these open entries will be included in the group exhibition which will be arranged by art supervisor Gay Youse.
